

National Elevator Consulting is a full service elevator and escalator consulting company dedicated to providing outstanding customer service while building long term relationships and partnerships.

As an independent firm with no affiliations to any elevator manufacturer, service contractor or developer, we are able to provide a truly unbiased and expert perspective.

Each of our consultants is licensed by the Technical Standards and Safety Authority as an Elevating Devices Mechanic and therefore do not require the assistance of your elevator service contractor when evaluating your elevator and/or escalator equipment. Not only does this ensure a truly independent analysis, it eliminates any added expense associated with having your elevator contractor involved in the process.

With over 80 years of technical knowledge, National Elevator Consulting is committed to ensuring our customers receive the BEST in vertical transportation service.

our mission

National Elevator Consulting strives to focus on the client, be completely responsive, and offer sound expert advice in the field of vertical transportation.

Our goal is to provide outstanding leadership and to set higher standards for elevator contractors to meet the needs and exceed the expectations of building owners, property managers and development companies.

We aim to demonstrate to each and every client that they are the single most important aspect of our business.
